About This Game

Infinite World is a game aimed at freedom

Like Minecraft, the map is procedural random generated. but the unit of Minecraft is cube, Infinity World is voxel so it is far more realistic than Minecraft, and every player will have a unique experience. and no border and limits for you create on the map the fight system has lots of weapons to choose, and the battle system is super smooth, because Most NPCs use receiving attack force to react to a player's attack (Real-time Physics Simulation)

you will not get tired of the map, because the scene use algorithm to generate all kinds of terrain like forest, grassland, hill, desert, lake, sea and so on, Nearly tens of billions of maps

The game has modes:

1. Infinite Killing Mode (new)
2. Relax mode
3. Survival mode
4. God mode
5. Dig mode

in infinite killing mode, you can Kill zombies and robots without limits, Free to choose any weapon in relax mode, You can relax by listening to procedurally generated music (artificial intelligence [AI] music, It's always different when you enter the game. It doesn't repeat for 24 hours) or run on the endless map. The mode has no tasks. no aim, just relax yourself. If you want to relax after work, it is the best mode in survival mode, just like Minecraft or other survival game, but the map can generate huge robot at night, and you can build robot army, it's different in god mode, you can take a nice picture if you find a fantastic procedural scenery, and the resource is infinite, you can add log plank metal etc any number in dig mode, you can destroy the entire map by your pickaxe, dig hole and explore, because whole map uses voxel to generate Ok, maybe I didn't really understand the goal of this game. But, nevertheless, I love this game and I don't know really why. Yet, after all, this is what is love about, right?

I love the setting, I love the interactions and how the alter ego mutate thru the gameplay. Nothing to shoot at, nothing to kill or to destroy. It's just you and your evolution as... An entity! That's simply astounding! One of a kind! It's a seamless flow, there's no real goal (maybe), just a continuous mutating (maybe) of something into something else (maybe).

Dunno... I just love it. And it worth every cent!. This game has been abandoned. The developer said he needed a better computer in order to develop the game, and that was the last we heard from him --that was July 2018. No word from the developer since then, so I think this game is not developing any time soon and really should be removed from the steam store.

Sorry VicX! If I'm wrong please comment on my review!
